15 December 2020

Dear Colleagues,

I know that you will have heard the announcement by Islington Council to all schools yesterday, asking them to close from Wednesday 16 December, apart from provision for vulnerable children and the children of critical workers.

I am deeply disappointed and concerned by the unilateral stance that Islington Council has taken and its potentially serious impact on schools, parents, and children, not just in Islington but also in surrounding authorities. The government has made clear its commitment that education and childcare settings should continue to remain open to all children during the Coronavirus (Covid-19) outbreak and we have prioritised education even in areas of high and very high transmission throughout this term.

I would like to restate here my appreciation for the efforts of school leaders, teachers and school support staff across Islington for all that you continue to do to provide full time, face to face provision for all pupils during these increasingly challenging times. Your commitment and dedication to ensuring that children get the best education experience possible in the circumstances is inspiring. I know how hard everybody has worked this term to give children the best possible experience in highly challenging circumstances and I would ask that you continue to allow all children to attend. Children have faced a year of extreme disruption already, there will be groups preparing for examinations, and I believe that every day that they are in school is vitally important.

I am acutely aware of the increasing Covid-19 incidence rates in the region and the levels of anxiety and uncertainty in schools and the wider community. My officials and I regularly review regional data alongside the Joint Biosecurity Centre and Public Health England in the region to ensure that we have all the available evidence. The latest advice from both the Regional Director of Public Health England and the Deputy Chief Medical Officer is that we are not in a position where the scientific and public health advice supports implementation of measures to restrict access to schools for children in Islington.

We have seen how across the country many areas with much higher transmission rates than those in Islington have kept schools open, working closely with our regional teams and accessing support through this route. My teams are ready to answer questions and help you if required.

I believe there is no place in our response to this pandemic for unilateral action such as that which Islington Council has taken and we must keep schools open for face to face education. Under Schedule 17 of the Coronavirus Act 2020, the Secretary of State may make a direction to require schools to enable all pupils to attend full time. We will consider using these powers in this instance.

I would appreciate you confirming directly with your school community your intention to allow all pupils to attend for face to face education from tomorrow, to ensure no families mistakenly believe their school to be closed.

With best wishes.

Yours sincerely,
